

Merriam, McAdoo Win in Straw Vote At Palm Springs

The results of the local straw vote for the 1938 primary election carried on this week by Charles Mathews gave Governor Frank F. Merriam 46 votes and the other 13 candidates for governor combined but 54 votes. Merriam received almost four times as many votes as his closest competitor, J. F. T. O'Connor.

The Palm Springs poll worked up by Mathews is in connection with a state-wide poll being carried on by the Real Estate Men's Merriam For Governor Campaign. One hundred and one votes were cast during the local straw vote. Following are the results of the Palm Springs poll:

BUD FOSTER OF PALM SPRINGS MAKES FIRST SOLO FLIGHT AT AUSTIN, TEXAS

Contractor H. H. Foster received word from Texas this week that his 15-year-old son, Bud Foster, successfully made his first solo airplane flight at Austin, last Friday.

Bud Foster, who will be a junior at the new Palm Springs high school this fall, accompanied by his mother, is spending the summer at Austin, Texas. They are staying with Mrs. Arthur Yerrington, mother of Mrs. H. H. Foster.

Bud stated in his communication to his father that after he landed from his first solo flight his instructor informed him that "it is customary for an aviator to set up the drinks after successfully making his first solo flight." Bud took his instructor in for a coca cola, and just then six more fellows walked in. He stated in his letter that he still owes his instructor 20 cents.

Clarence Hyde, general manager at the Palm Springs Builders Supply Company, drove to Balboa Beach Wednesday to stay through the week-end with his family, who are spending the summer at that resort town.

WASHING DOWN P. C. MINISCENT OF LOOD DAYS

Yesterday afternoon water rushed down the gutters of Palm Canyon Drive in a manner that was reminiscent of that day in March when the big flood descended upon California.

However, this was no thunder storm. It was a man-made affair, the occasion being the time to wash out the fire lines of Palm Springs. Every fire hydrant along Palm Canyon Drive was gushing water like a giant artesian well.

Employment Bureau Of P. S. B. M. A. Widens Scope

M. C. Dudley, executive secretary of the Palm Springs Business Men's Association, has been working diligently this summer in an effort to organize an efficient employment bureau in connection with his association. The facilities of the employment bureau of the P. S. B. M. A. are free to both the employee and the members of the association.

Because of the fact that Palm Springs is considered a seasonal town, one of the principal problems here is the filling of demands for particularly skilled employees, upholsterers, automobile mechanics, etc. Some types of artisans can't be found locally.

To combat this problem, Dudley has been corresponding with the California State Employment Service to see if the local association cannot work with that state-wide service in securing skilled employees for local employers. Of course, the Palm Springs association makes a concerted effort to fill positions with local labor if possible.

However, if the type of skilled man desired cannot be found locally, the local association can use the facilities of the California State Employment Service in locating a man to fill the position.

The following letter from Victor E. Harris, manager of the Riverside office of the California State Employment Service, addressed to Mr. Dudley shows the willingness of the state-wide service to cooperate with the local association.

Riverside, August 1, 1938.

Mr. M. C. Dudley, Manager,
Business Men's Association,
Palm Springs, California.
Dear Mr. Dudley:

This will confirm our conversation at Palm Springs on July 27, in your office.

The California State Employment Service will assist you and your staff to the fullest extent of our abilities in the placing of workers with Palm Springs employers.

We are in a position, through the use of our state-wide clearance system, to assist in calling back to Palm Springs, former workers desired by their employers, as well as to obtain new workers as they are needed. In the event that you call for certain types of workers who are not residents of Riverside county, our clearance system provides for action on the work orders by our associate offices, without any delay. All persons referred through you, or directly to employers, are registered and found qualified before being directed to the job. Employers may interview applicants in private offices provided for that purpose at this headquarters, in order that they will not be bothered with job seekers at their place of business. As I explained to you, there are many additional benefits provided by this service to both employers and employees, which are available upon your request. If at any time, you would care to have a representative from this office appear before your board of directors, we will be very glad to comply with such a request.

Very truly yours,
VICTOR E. HARRIS,
Manager.

Workmen are now busily engaged laying a sidewalk along the east side of Palm Canyon Drive from Tahquitz Drive to the Plaza. The sidewalk is being constructed of square red tile.

H. H. Quackenbush, special officer in charge of the local Indian reservation, and Mrs. Quackenbush are enjoying a month's vacation. They are now in Los Angeles.

Williams Lowest Bidder for P. S. Garbage Contract

At a meeting of the city council Tuesday night, August 9, Harry N. Williams, Jr., local distributor for Arden Dairy, was declared the lowest bidder for the Palm Springs' garbage contract, and the sanitary committee of the city council was ordered to negotiate a contract with Williams. The contract is to be drawn by City Attorney Roy Colegate and is to be submitted to the council for approval. If the committee is unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with Williams, the next lowest bidder is to be contacted.

Following are the bids for garbage collection opened at the council meeting this week:

| | Per Year |
|------------------------|----------|
| Francis Murray | $11,724 |
| A. D. McNay | 10,788 |
| Smith & Fenton | 10,462 |
| Harry N. Williams, Jr. | 9,875 |

All bids were from local men with the exception of that submitted by Smith & Fenton, a South Pasadena concern.

Adopt Ordinances
Two ordinances were adopted by the council this week. Ordinance No. 18, which deals with the disposal of garbage and waste matter, was adopted. Ordinance No. 19, the fire prevention ordinance, was also adopted. An amendment to the building code ordinance was adopted by the council. This amendment provides for a board of appeals from rulings of the building inspector.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance, designed to prevent nurseries from being established on Palm Canyon Drive, was defeated. The vote on this amendment was as follows: Aye, Clifton and Murray; no, Williams, Pershing and Boyd.

Vote Payment of Bills
The council voted to pay the following bills: The Desert Sun, $30.24; Sheriff Carl Rayburn, $35.00 (payment for 50 days board for William L. Davis, picket prisoner), and the Lime-light, $22.38.

Five members of the council were present at the meeting this week. Present councilmen were Murray, Williams, Clifton, Pershing and Mayor Boyd. Absent councilmen were Hicks and Shannon.

A notification from the State Highway Division was read stating that the state highway department will trim the trees along Palm Canyon Drive.

Gambling Ordinance
An ordinance to prohibit drinking, gambling, and other amusements was introduced at the council meeting Tuesday night. This ordinance will be voted upon at the meeting of the council, Tuesday evening, August 30.

Council Passes Flood-Control Resolution

At the meeting of the Palm Springs city council on Tuesday night, August 9, a resolution was passed by that body to appeal to the Federal government for funds for construction of adequate flood control improvements in Tachevah wash, said funds to be appropriated soon enough that the improvements can be constructed in time to avoid extensive property damage that may occur this coming winter.

It was resolved that Congressman Harry Sheppard should be requested to present the matter to the proper officials of the United States.

Flood waters from Tachevah wash have done much damage in Palm Springs during the past, and it is feared that this type of thing will continue unless adequate preventative measures are taken. This water that flows in Tachevah wash, it is said, is the run-off from a portion of the Agua Caliente Indian reservation, where the wash originates.

The Resolution

The following is the resolution adopted by the city council at a meeting this week:

"Whereas, the storm water channel known as Tachevah wash, originates in the west half of section 10, township 4 south, range 4 east, S. B. B. M., which is a portion of the Agua Caliente reservation, and flows across the city of Palm Springs, California, and through the most valuable part of said reservation, and

"Whereas, during the heavy rains of 1927, 1937 and 1938, flood waters from said channel have caused heavy and increasing damage to property, including the Palm Springs grammar school and improved Indian land in the northwest corner of section 14 of said reservation, and

"Whereas, the storm of March, 1938, broke through existing embankments and a large section of the highest valued Indian properties are now exposed to serious flood damage, and

"Therefore, be it resolved that the proper officials of the United States be petitioned to appropriate the said funds to be appropriated for the construction of adequate flood control improvements in Tachevah wash, said funds to be appropriated soon enough that the improvements can be constructed in time to avoid extensive property damage that may occur this coming winter."

Tuesday, Aug. 30 To Be Busy Day In Palm Springs

Tuesday, August 30, will be a busy day for Palm Springs. Although still hot summer, several important events will take place in the village on that day; events important enough that it is anticipated that many villagers summering elsewhere will drop in for that day.

First of all, August 30 is the date of the California primary election. Many will undoubtedly visit the village on that day to vote.

There will also be an important meeting of the Palm Springs Business Men's Association on that day, the first since July 6th. This meeting will probably be held at 2 p. m. at the office of the association in the Plaza. Because of the length of time that has elapsed since the last meeting of the Association, there will probably be much business to transact at this meeting.

Then in the evening there will be a meeting of the city council in the upper room of the fire hall at 7:30 p. m.

EARL WARREN DEFINES POLICY OF OFFICE; ELECTION AUGUST 30

Politics has no room in the administration of justice, declared Earl Warren, non-partisan candidate for attorney general, in a Los Angeles address. Upon this principle, he continued, he would undertake the task of attorney general if the voters entrust him with the responsibility of the office.

"It is difficult," said Warren, "to measure the relative importance of responsibilities involving the safety of the home, the personal rights of the individual, the property rights of the state and the integrity of the state government."

"It is such responsibility that the attorney general must assume. What a responsibility! What a challenge to any man who will be selected by the people for the office! But what a satisfaction it would be to any man with the proper training willing to give his very best to the job! And that I promise you I will do."

"For 14 years I have wrestled with similar problems as district attorney of the third largest county in California. My duties, unlike those of the district attorney of Los Angeles or San Francisco counties, entail civil and criminal duties. Experience, coupled with the desire to serve the best interests of the people, has been my guide."

IN AT THE DEATH

The scene in which John Warde leaped to his death in New York City was not one to inspire respect for humanity.

A man, even a suicide, should be permitted to die with dignity. Not the least of the lamentable features of this bizarre death was the morbidity of the thousands who attended it.

Their morbidity—and their decency. Thousands stood for hours to treat themselves to the sensation of the expected tragic climax. Among them strolled betters, offering odds against the fatal leap—and the bets were snapped up. Venders and hawkers went among the crowd, crying their wares as at a circus.

And when the leap finally was made, it seemed to be a supreme gesture of contempt for the living from the man who had stared at the crowd that stared at him. No matter what mental disturbance impelled him to his act, he must inevitably have been swung to decide for death as he weighed the prospects of life among the gaping spectators of his emotional distress.

He leaped and died. The crowd collected or paid its bets, tossed away its peanut shells, and retired from the scene. They had been given the thrill of a lifetime. And they had betrayed their kinship with the spectators at ancient Rome's circus, with the knitting women surrounding the guillotine during the Terror, with the thugs who beat the helpless non-Aryans in Vienna, with the military leaders who bomb women and children.

It was not a pleasant scene, nor one that inspires happy reflections on the nature of man.

NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers sometimes get blamed when they should get credit, and praise when they should be criticized.

The help given by newspapers in the battle against communicable disease was lauded by Glenn V. Armstrong, secretary of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association, at the three-day health institute on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California. The treatment of such diseases would be where it was thirty years ago if it were not for the help of the newspapers, Armstrong said.

He said newspapers are the strongest ally of the teachers of health education, attracting the attention of the public for forcing action on health programs.

RIVER JOKES OUT DATED

Jokes about the old Colorado River are pitifully out of date, in another way, so many new dams are being built that once erratic stream is now tame.

Lest we forget, the Colorado River is so tame that the waters of the river are so thin to plow.

SENATOR SEAWELL ON TOUR OF RIVERSIDE COUNTY

One of the prominent in Banning on Tuesday was Senator J. L. (Jerry) Seawell, candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor of California. He is a member of the California senate at the present time. While at Banning he called on Senator John Phillips and a few other friends as his limited time would permit.

A brief resume of Senator Seawell's life follows:

Born of pioneer parents on a farm in Colusa county, September 2, 1897. Attended Oakland public schools.

Locomotive firemen and engineer for twelve years.

Eleven years engaged in the realty and insurance business.

He has served as a member of the board of education, state assembly and state senate.

Married and has two children.

He is a member of Elks, Ben Ali Temple of the Mystic Shrine, Eastern Star, Eagles, Moose, Redmen, Lions International, Foot-printers Association, Associated Sportsmen, Native Sons of the Golden West and California State Firemen's Association.

For over a decade in the assembly and senate he has supported legislation designed:

To improve our educational system.

To improve the working conditions of our working men and women.

To protect our natural resources.

To conserve and propagate our wild life.

To rehabilitate and perpetrate mining in all its phases.

To bring relief to the farmer and to equalize the tax load.

To give security to California's aged.

To give to the veterans a program to at least partially repay them for the service rendered their country and state.

To give to California state employees the model Civil Service Act to protect their interest and safeguard their employment.

To give to California the world's greatest highway system.

"Do well with Seawell" is his slogan.

Our Boys and Girls

(By Dr. W. C. Gunnerson)

At the opening of school on September 12, some 100 or 125 of the young people who would in former years have had to be brought to Banning in buses, will enter their own new building in Palm Springs. They have a new school to establish and new traditions to begin. We hope they will take full advantage of their opportunities and make their school an outstanding one.

What a high school should be for the local high school is what those who are in charge of it should have every one of them. Cabazon, for example, is a fine example of what a high school should be for a community. The school is a part of the community and the community is a part of the school.

Influx of Transients To California Now Reduced

The tide has turned. California has routed the menace of the influx of migratory indigents. The trek now faces east. More are leaving the state than entering it. That is the carefully checked information from all the important points of entry, according to J. K. Baillie in the Los Angeles Herald-Express.

Jess Latham, senior quarantine officer at Yermo, near Daggett, says: "We have checked no tin can cars entering the state for the past two months. We have forgotten what they looked like."

Robt. M. Campbell, who holds the same office at Blythe, reports: "'Oaks' (Oklahoma) and 'Arkies' (Arkansas) now entering California from this station are few and far between. There has been a continued procession going east."

Few Transients

W. R. Quirk also a senior quarantine officer, located at Fort Yuma, a former favorite point of entry for transients, says there is a different story there now. Incoming traffic is now of the highest class and only a few of the jobless and necessitous are crossing the border westward bound.

At the Parker station at Vidal and in fact from all the other points of entry come the same reports.

What caused this right-about face of a mighty army of poor, frustrated travel-scarred people who were looking to California as a promised land and who gave every indication of becoming this state's greatest social problem?

Travel Surveys

The answer to this question is bound up in the thousands of reports of federal, state and county agencies, chambers of commerce throughout the state and travel bureaus.

Important factors in stemming the flow of indigents were:

1. The saturation point in agricultural employment in this state has been reached.

2. General pickup in business conditions back home.

3. Federal grants and bonuses for the dust bowl farmers who remain on their land or take new farm provided by the government.

4. Resident qualification for relief. Three years for county relief.

Public Confused

The publicity about indigents coming to California has unfortunately confused the general public. In reality, it is the problem of the influx of migrant farm laborers. It is the problem of California farmers rather than of the cities. Of the 90,740 out-of-state persons entering California in search of work in 1937, 78,332 were farmers or farm workers migrating from the midwest drought states.

Due to the perishable nature of the major California crops, the wide range of climate and seasonal succession of crops, California agriculture over a period of years came to depend upon a large and mobile supply of casual labor especially at harvest peaks.

Even Balance

The reason the matter has engaged active public attention in recent months is that up to 1938 California agriculture maintained a fairly even balance between supply of and demand for migrant labor. Farm demand for labor ranges from 59,000 workmen in November to April to a peak of 100,000 in September; the all-year demand being computed at 480,000. Now, however, the supply of migrant labor is running far in excess of demand.

Analysis of the reasons shows that it is not only a California but a national problem. It is part of the United States farm problem. The soil eroded farms, grasshopper and mechanization of cotton picking.

Allen, supervisor of the farm service of the United States department office at Los Angeles, is recognized as one of the outmost authorities on the transient problem. It is his belief that if relief is given in California were adjusted to the conditions in the migrants' home states, they would be discouraged from coming.

He says: "Since planted cotton in California was reduced from 1,000 acres in 1937 to 364,000 in 1938, it is estimated that between 100,000 and 35,000 less workers employed on the 1938 California crop than were employed in 1937."

The distressed midwest farm workers have been attracted to California by their own kin-folk, who write them how California farm workers are paid more than twice those paid in Oklahoma; of the competition of farm labor by the state and other advanced countries.

Workers in the past practice in past years of the Arizona cotton growers to send out a call for cotton pickers from the states of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas to assist in harvesting the Arizona cotton crop. However, these workers only pause for a short time in Arizona, then move on over into the California cotton fields.

"The United States Farm Placement Service analysis of such arrivals shows 86.3 per cent of the 1937 migrants were from the midwest drought states. Such arrivals are counted at the state border by officers of the California Department of Agriculture.

"The fallacy in the figures is they represent an incoming count only. No count is made of those leaving the state. Since much of the migratory farm labor traverses back and forth across the state borders seasonally, obviously the same persons are counted many times from year to year.

Acute Problem

"The problem has been most acute in the San Joaquin valley. Agriculture in Los Angeles county is specialized and requires skilled labor. As most of the migrants are unskilled workers, there is nothing to attract them to Los Angeles county, so they usually move directly from the border to the inland valleys.

Practically all of the western states have had experience with the same problem. The Oregon state planning board states that between 175,000 to 200,000 migrants entered Oregon in a six-year period.

The Farm Security Administration has spent money in Texas and Oklahoma on cash grants to encourage would-be migrants to stay home. U. S. employment offices in the midwest have had their field workers who contact farm labor warn them to keep away from California.

A decrease of 22.1 per cent in farm migrants entering California from the mid-west was shown during April and May.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barkow of The Desert Sun are enjoying a ten-day rest at Oceanside. They report the fishing very good at that beach resort.

Law Enforcement In County is One Big Job

During the incumbency of Carl Rayburn as sheriff of Riverside county, great strides have been taken in the business of law enforcement. The introduction of modern methods and equipment, made necessary by the increase in crime, has quite naturally called for an increase in expenditures in the sheriff's office, but the return to the taxpayer in crime prevention and property recovered has more than off-set this increase.

A concrete example of these savings to the taxpayer is reflected in the reduction of agricultural thefts by 70% since the installation and operation of the radio patrol cars. These cars operate upon all the highways throughout the rural areas of the county and have been a very potent factor in crime prevention. Controlled by radio from the main office these cars are able to reach almost any spot within the county in a very short time.

The "tying in" of Riverside county with the state-wide teletypewriter system enables the sheriff to contact all the major police departments and sheriffs' offices in the state. In addition to the state-wide hook-up, the sub-stations within Riverside county are connected with the main office at Riverside thereby making it possible for the sheriff to call one or all stations for the purpose of transmitting important messages. These facilities are at all times made available to the local police departments within the county of Riverside, as are all the other special equipment maintained by Sheriff Rayburn for the prevention of crime and the apprehension of criminals. In addition to this service to the local police departments, copies of all the all-point bulletins reaching the Riverside county sheriff's office from departments all over the state are copied and mailed to all local police departments and constables throughout the county. These copies of the all-points bulletins are mailed out the evening of the day they are received and cost the various agencies nothing. This makes it possible for every peace officer within the county to have this information within 24 hours after it is received. Emergency all-points are broadcast over the radio.

A taxpayer writes:

"The people of Riverside county are fortunate in having such a man as Sheriff Rayburn who has had the experience and ability to plan and build this compact and well functioning unit of law enforcement and one who, having that ability, has been able to train the men of the department in order that the best possible service to the public could be maintained."

SENATOR W. G. McADOO TO GIVE ADDRESS IN RIVERSIDE

Senator William Gibbs McAdoo will be the guest of honor at an old-fashioned Democratic rally at Fairmount park, Riverside, next Tuesday, August 16. The rally will begin in the late afternoon and continue through the early evening.

Senator McAdoo will speak at 7:30, according to Myron W. Tilden, Riverside county campaign manager.

All registered Democrats of the county are urged to attend the rally and to bring their own basket dinners. Senator McAdoo will mingle with the crowd and hopes to meet and talk with as many Riverside county Democrats as possible. An excellent program of music and other entertainment has been arranged. Congressman Harry R. Sheppard and other Democratic representatives will be present.

According to Mr. Tilden, Senator McAdoo will spend the entire day in Riverside county but will make a public address only at the Fairmount park rally. He has requested that as many of his friends and constituents as possible meet him at the park.

The McAdoo campaign committee for Riverside county is composed of Marcus Meairs, chairman; Myron W. Tilden, manager; W. J. Brand, treasurer; John Neblett, H. V. Fluke, William Speck and W. A. Allen.

Members of the women's division of the campaign committee are Mrs. T. M. Wannamacker, Mrs. W. A. Allen, Mrs. R. F. Schlickelsen, Mrs. Ray Alkhorn, Mrs. Marcus Meairs and Mrs. Myron W. Tilden.

Ladies of the women's division will present Senator McAdoo and his party with a basket dinner to be served at one of the Fairmount park tables.

Jerry Sanborn reminded the members of the fishing trip scheduled for next Tuesday, August 16. The trip is for members of the Palm Springs Lions Club, and Al Weingarten is in charge of the affair. It is not certain as yet whether a live-bait boat has been chartered or whether the members will go out on the barge at Oceanside. Those planning to go should get in touch with Al Weingarten at Oceanside or Jerry Sanborn here in the village.

Al Weingarten is expecting all who go on the excursion to be at his residence at Oceanside for a 6 a. m. breakfast on the morning of Tuesday, August 16. His address is 523 N. Freeman, Oceanside, Calif.

MR. HIRSCH DISCUSSES ROAD PROPOSALS IN FOURTH DISTRICT

(Political Announcement)

The Desert Sun,
Palm Springs, California.

Gentlemen:

May I be permitted to comment on the paid advertisement of Supervisorial Candidate Fred Roberge which appeared in a recent issue of your paper, in which he makes the statement that if elected he will not build any private roads.

While no specific road is mentioned the presumption is that he has reference to roads paved during the past year at Soboba Hot Springs, Eden Hot Springs and Highland Springs. all three resorts being located in Supervisor Dillon's district. It has always been the policy of the Riverside county officials to cooperate with resorts as much as possible, as evidenced by the pavement to La Quinta, Murrieta Hot Springs and Glen Ivy, the last two being strictly "private" roads leading to these resorts. The La Quinta road was paved before Supervisor Dillon took office and the others are not in his supervisorial district.

As a member of the California Resort Operators Association, I desire to take exception to Mr. Roberge's remarks. The tax assessment roll will surely disclose the fact that the resorts more than pay their share of taxes for the privilege of having paved roads. The roads are by no means "private," being open to the motoring public who receive their full share of enjoyment through use of same. Mr. Roberge knows full well that other Southern California counties have an "advertising fund" for the purpose of bringing tourists to their respective communities. Riverside county is justly proud of her many world-famous resorts who attract thousands of tourists from every part of the United States, spending hundreds of thousands of dollars with their merchants.

When Mr. Roberge was secretary of the Banning Chamber of Commerce, he must have recognized this fact, for when soliciting our membership, he voluntarily offered the aid of the Chamber in having Glen Eyrie road paved to connect with Cherry Valley. (Glen Eyrie is the road that passes the Highland Springs property). A communication was sent the Board of supervisors urging immediate action. After five long years the supervisors were finally able to secure the necessary funds to pave this valuable connecting link between Banning and Cherry Valley. The Banning merchants are daily receiving the benefits that accrue from additional traffic to their city.

While on the subject of roads, I am informed that Mr. Roberge has already given his pre-election promise to Road District No. 8, agreeing to pay from county funds the sum of $2,000.00 yearly the next four years for the La Mesa-Mira Villa road pavement which was built some years ago under a bond election, willingly incurred by the voters of that district.

Perhaps Mr. Roberge was not referring to the "private roads," built to resorts, maybe he has in mind some entirely different "private roads," if so, why not name them outright instead of reference by innuendo? Personally I favor complete frankness on the part of a candidate seeking my support.

Sincerely yours,

FRED S. HIRSCH.

Burke Draws Road Camp Sentence

Philo D. Burke, 42, former postmaster of Whitewater, was sentenced to 12 months in a prison road camp on Tuesday by U. S. District Judge Harry Holzer at Los Angeles after pleading guilty of embezzlement of $2027 of postoffice funds.

He confessed taking the money to pay pressing debts, saying that his conscience would not permit him to remain silent after the crime was committed.

Burke succeeded his father, the late A. F. Burke as Whitewater postmaster. Leo Boberick is acting postmaster at this time.

After the embezzlement, Burke left Whitewater. He was arrested in an Arizona city as he was about to enter a telephone booth, it was reported.

RIVERSIDE CHAMBER COMMITTEE SUPPORTS BLYTHE FAIR

The board of directors of the Riverside County Chamber of Commerce met at their office in Riverside on Monday, August 8, at which time they approved the action of the board of supervisors in adding the Blythe Rodeo to the list of fairs, shows and pageants held in Riverside county.

In connection with the installation of a Riverside county exhibit at the Los Angeles County Fair to be held at Pomona September 16 to October 2nd, inclusive, the following county-wide committee has been appointed by the County Chamber of Commerce to handle same: Don McColly, secretary Riverside Chamber of Commerce, chairman; Harry Wells, president Hemet Chamber of Commerce; Glen de Yoe, secretary Corona Chamber of Commerce; and W. P. Clark, secretary Banning Chamber of Commerce.

MARKET GOOD FOR PITS

The by-product of Hemet valley's fine apricots, the modest and unassuming seeds, is in demand this year, and prices are high enough to offset appreciably the low price received for the fruit. To date price of pits has ranged from $20 to $22.50 per ton, reported to be about $2.50 a ton less than is being paid to growers in the northern part of the state.

WILLIAM BONELLI CANDIDACY WELL RECEIVED

Unsolicited endorsements from every section of Southern California for William G. Bonelli to succeed himself as Fourth District member of the State Board of Equalization, may be attributed to Mr. Bonelli's firm pronouncement of strict law enforcement.

This is the opinion of shrewd political observers who are aware of the concerted action in every one of the eight counties making up the Fourth District, to elect Mr. Bonelli at the primaries.

Industry and labor, merchant and housewife, by their resolutions and endorsements are backing Mr. Bonelli's program of law enforcement.

Mr. Bonelli has shown no favors in the matter of the liquor industry or in the many matters which are handled by the board. There are regulations governing the industry and Mr. Bonelli insists on their strict observance.

Just a few days ago, reports Mr. Bonelli's headquarters, more than 55,000 retailers in organizations engaged in many lines of business in the eight counties comprising the Fourth District, unqualifiedly endorsed Mr. Bonelli. His law enforcement program has met with the approval of a great majority of the citizenry and his election to the office he now holds is generally conceded by them.

Governor Merriam To Be Speaker In This City

Governor Frank F. Merriam will address the Lions and other service clubs at a meeting in Banning, Tuesday evening, August 16. Supply of tickets is nearly exhausted, but it is likely that several Palm Springs Lions have secured their credentials permitting admission to the meeting.

The Governor is seeking renomination as the Republican standard bearer, and strong support is given his candidacy throughout the state.

Governor Merriam's reelection is urged by three prominent Californians in statements issued today. The three are:

Senator Nelson T. Edwards, Orange County pioneer, citrus grower and business man, who for four years served as a member of the California Highway Commission and eight years in the state senate as chairman of the Roads and Highways committee; Gertrude Atherton, famous California novelist, and,

Joseph Scott, distinguished attorney and Republican leader.

Their statements follow:

Senator Nelson:

"In selecting a candidate for governor, the Republican party in California, it seems to me, has no very serious problem. Events have made the nomination of Governor Merriam an entirely logical solution.

"The governor has given California a successful administration; has balanced the budget, during a very difficult period, and dealt intelligently with the perplexing problems, including relief, which the state has faced. A party which hopes for success does not abandon its successful leaders.

"During my service as member of the highway commission and state senate, I had opportunity to observe Governor Merriam at work over a period of years. Few men have had his capacity for continuous application to business. Few men have had his experience in state affairs and consequently few men have his knowledge of the state's problems. It is by reason of hard work and knowledge of the job that he has been successful.

"These facts establish Governor Merriam's claim to the nomination. In addition, no man has a greater personal acquaintance in the state. He has lived long in Los Angeles county and his personal friends are numerous there as they are in every county.

"This is because he is a plain and kindly man whose life and character appeal to people who believe in simplicity and honesty."

Gertrude Atherton:

"I am supporting Governor Merriam and doing everything in my power to bring about his election. No Democrat with any love for his party and his state can do otherwise.

"I would ask my fellow Democrats to look at Minnesota and say if they wish to see the great state of California follow the same path blazed by that state. One has only to view graft ridden Minnesota, struggling under the burden of heavy debt and intolerable taxation not to mention the restraint placed on liberty of action by a radical government, to know that we want none of it here.

"Governor Merriam is the one candidate now before the voters able to save the state from such disaster. The electorate showed their confidence in him four years ago when we were faced with the Sinclair menace and four years in office has added materially to his stature. Firmness of purpose and prudence have marked his administration. Four years in office finds California in much better condition than when he assumed his duties as governor under the most trying circumstances."

Joseph Scott:

"Perhaps the old saying, 'You can't have your cake and eat it too,' may sound a bit trite, but involved is a principle I'm sure Governor Merriam understands.

"For example, when responsibility for raising $168,000,000 each biennium to support our public school system, colleges and universities was placed upon the state, Governor Merriam solved the problem by the enactment of the sales tax.

"The result is not one California school has been closed for lack of funds. This is a record practically unequalled anywhere in the nation.

"Again when the problem of relief for distressed citizens was paramount, and when it was necessary to assist victims of flood disaster, such relief was paid out of current funds. No debt was incurred. It was a cash on the line proposition.

"Agriculture, one of California's principle sources of income, has received practical and generous aid from Governor Merriam. Farm income has advanced nearly one hundred fifty million dollars annually.

"Welfare of labor has been advanced in nearly every field of endeavor. And California has had four strikes and less strife than any other industrial state.

"A financial deficit which existed four years ago has been wiped out, the state treasury is solvent, and the biennial budget is balanced.

"Not the least of Governor Merriam's qualifications for further leadership as our chief executive is his wholesome American spirit in setting his face like flint against Nazism, Facism, Communism, or any other 'ism' that interferes with the salutary gospel of Americanism.

"Altogether these are achievements of Frank Merriam's good government administration which have restored the confidence of business and industry. It has been a sound safe program.

"I am for prolonging this program because it means continued freedom and opportunity for prosperity with safety, and I have no hesitancy in calling upon the voters to join with me in re-electing Frank F. Merriam governor."

RECOVERY WILL BE SPEEDED THIS FALL, SAID

Richard C. Patterson, Jr., assistant secretary of commerce, predicted at Washington yesterday that recovery would be accelerated this fall.

He warned against price increases as business activity expands. "Businessmen are coming out of their shells and are beginning to look to future business. They are getting away from the day-to-day outlook," he said.

The government recovery spending to date, he said, could have had little more than a psychological effect on business. He said its direct effects should begin to be felt in the fall, when spending will be at a peak.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Hear me speedily, O Lord... cause me to hear thy loving-kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee." These words of the Psalmist constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

The Lesson-Sermon includes other passages from the Psalms: "LORD, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations... Let thy work appear, unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us"; and these words of Isaiah: "I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels."

Among the selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is the statement: "The recipe for beauty is to have less illusion and more Soul, to retreat from the belief of pain or pleasure in the body into the unchanging calm and glorious freedom of spiritual harmony."
